

SMSC

How can Parents Help?

We encourage parents to get involved at home with SMSC by promoting tolerance, independence and extra-curricular interests, as well as developing them as an active British citizen and a positive role model for the community.

Parents are invited in to school for celebration assemblies, performances, workshops, parent lunches and class assemblies. They are also invited to share children's learning in key areas of SMSC on Sunshine Days. During these themed days, parents can ask questions about what their children are learning and gain a deeper understanding of the way in which we teach SMSC.

Some ideas for helping at home:

- Encourage your child to attend after school clubs to pursue an interest
- Use signposts in school to find external clubs, such as sports clubs or brownies
- Promote tolerance and respect
- Use resources such as Newsround to find out about current events in the world, and discuss them with your child
